

Seacoast Village Project

Building community, knowledge and support with seniors aging at home

Village News

January 2024

Across all areas of the Village's work in 2023, we saw the fruits of increased member engagement emerge—from expanded cluster-sponsored programs, to increased participation on committees and governance teams. To all those who attended events, joined committees and teams, and volunteered time, ideas and expertise—Thank you!

As we head into 2024, we are pleased to introduce the newly formed Health Support Resource Team. Comprised of Village members with professional backgrounds and expertise in the healthcare field, the team's focus is to provide support for members with health challenges or in need of help navigating the healthcare system.

The Health Support Resource Team reflects the mission and the value that the Village model brings to seniors and is an important step in the Village's development. The team compliments the practical (and often more straightforward) support services the Village offers its members, such as rides, or help with gardening or handyman tasks. By pooling the knowledge and local connections of team members, and centralizing and organizing information about health-related resources in our area, the Village will be able to better serve members in times of need.

We are grateful to the Foundation for Seacoast Health for supporting this work with a $10,000 angel grant and to the Village members who are serving on the Health Support Resource Team: Brenda Reynolds (Team Leader), Bob Andelman, Pat Chun-Taite, Nancy Euchner, Susan MacLennen, Nancy Seesman, April Weeks, Nancy Zadavec, and Cari Quater (staff).

The February Lunch & Learn session will feature a panel of Health Support Resource Team members and will be an opportunity to learn more about their expertise and how the team can support Village members.

In the meantime, we hope you'll start off the New Year with your fellow members at the Annual New Year's Brunch on January 7 and register to participate in one of the other opportunities to get smart or get connected this month.

Get Connected—Friendly Calls on the Way

As part of our mission to build a network of support for our members, we are committed to creating new ways to connect members to one another, and to help each other out.

Beginning in the East Cluster, Village members will soon have the opportunity to periodically receive a friendly call from a fellow East Cluster member throughout the year.

Later this month, East Cluster members can expect to hear from April Weeks, Friendly Call program coordinator, who will provide more information about how this new program will work and on how you can be part of it.

Helping Each Other Out—Preparing for Winter Storm Emergencies

Would you like extra support when preparing for winter storms and a check-in when weather hits? Let us know what would be most helpful!

Thirty Village members responded to our initial Emergency Preparedness Survey and received support during the most recent storm. It's not too late to take advantage of this member benefit this winter (and you can opt out at any time).

The newly formed Health Support Resource Team is here to help! If you'd like to receive storm support, and haven't already signed up, simply complete the survey by Friday, January 5. By participating in the survey, you will:

- Have the option of requesting a call from a Village volunteer when a severe weather warning is issued
- Request specific storm-related support
- Request a pick-up of supplies if you are unable to get out yourself
- Offer new ideas about how the Village can help keep all our members safe during weather emergencies.

You can find the survey at <http://tiny.cc/84glvz>. If you would prefer a paper copy of the survey, contact Cari Quater, at cari@seacoastvillageproject.org or give us a call at the office at (603) 373-8429.

As a reminder, Village members can call the 24-hour service line at anytime with a request for help. You can find this members-only number listed in your Member Handbook or on the refrigerator magnet you received when you joined.

Member Story—Bob Andelman, Portsmouth

Originally from Belmont, MA, Bob moved to Portsmouth after completing his medical training in 1979. He took a job practicing anesthesia at Wentworth-Douglass Hospital, where he later met his wife. "I am drawn to small community hospitals, and loved my work, even as the Seacoast and its hospitals grew exponentially over time."

In 2013, Bob retired from Portsmouth Hospital, where he'd started the obstetric epidural service in 1985, but kept his medical license. In 2016, Bob retooled and began volunteering at Families First seeing men and women with opioid use disorder, prescribing Suboxone, and doing his best to support and counsel them. "This was fascinating and allowed me to see a totally different side of life. Several of my patients were homeless, and all had limited resources. My learning curve was extremely steep—I had to learn a new subject area, electronic medical records, and most of all, had to learn how to talk to my patients!!"

Now retired again, Bob spends his time biking, spinning, walking, and working out. He gives tours of Appledore Island, as part of the UNH Marine Docent program, and enjoys meeting friends for meals and talks. Bob will be sharing his medical knowledge and healthcare system expertise with the Village as a member of the newly formed Health Support Resource Team.
